

re NOPR - periodic underwater inspection of pipelines -

The chaos caused when pipelines are struck and destroyed does not only hurt humans, but also causes catastrophe in the ocean - by injuring fish, marine mammals, quality of the water itself. So it is catastrophic when a pipeline breaches. We do not want that to happen. When I read about this happening, I think that our regulatory agencies are not doing their jobs to prevent this horror.